

Two Die In Bus-Auto Wreck

Two children died and their father received serious injuries Tuesday afternoon when a car which swerved to miss hitting a dog went out of control and collided head on with a school bus.

Pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, which occurred on Fuerte dr. about 400 yards east of Avocado blvd. in El Cajon, were Rebecca Holst, 2, and JoAnne Pacheco, 6, who were passengers in a car driven by their father, Richard A. Hurst of 1527 Donita, El Cajon.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

Some words describing vestid (He is dressed) and clothing in Spanish have interesting histories. It is reported that Germanic tribes pillaged and looted Spain calling their booty "roub" from the Old German "roubon" (to rob). The highly prized "loot" from Spain was "clothing" and the frequent use of "roub" and "roubon" resulted in the Spanish adaptation of "ropa" for "clothes" and "robar" (to rob).

"Pantalons" was a popular word used over a century ago in England to describe a particular type of trouser. The word was shortened to "pants" in English but the Spanish-speaking world adapted "pantalones" and still uses it today to describe "pants".
A "camisole," sleeved jacket or jersey once worn by men in England, is the origin for the Spanish word "camisa" which means "shirt." Today "camisas" are still mostly worn by men and "blusas" (blouses) are women's garments. "Falda" is the female garment in Spanish for "skirt."
"Vestir" is the Spanish word for "to dress." An English cognate for this is "vestment." "Vestido" is taken from "vestir" and can have two meanings. These meanings are best understood by examining their use in the phrases "El esta vestido" (He is dressed) and "Es un vestido bonito." (It's a pretty dress). Thus "vestido" can mean either "dressed" or "dress."

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Sav "Que bonita ropa" (keh boh-NEE-fah POH-nah) for "What pretty clothes."
Sav "Son pantalones nuevos" (sohn nahnt-tah-LOHN-ehs noo-EH-vohs) for "They are new pants."
Sav "Es una camisa blanca." (ehs OON-ah kah-MEE-sah) for "It is a white shirt."
Sav "Me gusta la blusa." (meh GOOS-tah lah BLOO-sah) for "I like the blouse."
Sav "Esta vestido ahora." (eh-STAH veh-STEE-toh ah-OH-rah) for "He (or she) is dressed now."
Sav "Es un vestido rojo." (ehs oon vehs-TEE-toh ROH-hoh) for "It is a red dress."

Candidates Highlight S.V. Kiwanis Meeting

Seven candidates for the board of the Grossmont Union High School District were speakers at the April 4 breakfast-meeting of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club. Twelve persons are seeking three seats on the board, in an election Tuesday.

Leading off the speakers was William Brink, a member of the Jamul-Las Flores School District Board for the past nine years. He said the present Grossmont District is like some orchestras, "lacking harmony."

Beverly Hurst, the second speaker, said she has been active for some time with children of the primary age and now active with those of high school age. She said she feels that overcrowding of schools is of primary importance. Good communication is also a "must," she pointed out. She said the district needs a stronger vocational program and financial aid from the state.

Joe Drew, of Drew Ford, said he is concerned with the spiraling costs to the district. He said the cost has gone up 124 per cent in the past five years and pointed out that the district is low in the reading program. He said the district is spending more money and getting less results.

Howard Harris, a 19-year old pre-law student, said that the students' "education for life" program, is not being fulfilled. He said he believes job training is an important part of the curriculum and that the students should be taught to live in a "modern" society. He said students are being treated like children and not adults. The schools, he said, are not teaching "self discipline."

Betty Pengeley, the next speaker, a businesswoman, is president of the San Diego League of Women Voters. She said it is as important to give good education to the "slow learner," as to the "rapid learner." She said good teachers are of primary importance. Overcrowding of schools creates a problem, she said.

Bill Funke, a resident of the area, said he is thankful for the guidance his own children have received from local schools. He said the district needs self-discipline in students and guidelines for the administration. He pointed out that 65 per cent of the voters of the district are not parents.

Mel Nunn, with the Navy Electronics Lab, is a graduate of San Diego State College. He said he considers the board as a part of a "team" and that the board is not taking its real "role". He said board members should get together at least once a month to talk over problems. He is now a member of the La Mesa-Spring Valley Board, but will resign that post if elected to the Grossmont District, he said.

Bill Walton, of the San Diego Public Welfare Department, said the district needs equal opportunity for all students. He said double-sessions are a problem in the district, but the construction of another high school will ease the pressure on Santana High School. He said he is sure that the school will be built in the not-too-distant future.

Bob Belt, past president of the club, said the first annual S.V. Kiwanis Auction is scheduled for May 19 on the parking lot of Mayfair Market, Casa de Oro.

The club is accepting items at present for the auction, and to date over 25 items have been donated. Those caring to contribute may get in touch with any Kiwanis member.

Organizational Meeting Held By Explorers

Lemon Grove Explorer Post no. 2187, sponsored by the Lemon Grove Sheriff's sub-station held an organizational meeting last week and set up leaders and squadrons.

Captain Larry King will serve as the division commander, Lt. Barney Oldham is associate advisor, institutional advisor is Sgt. Ron Wibe, and deputy John Tenwolde is post advisor.

The post committee, under chairman deputy Bill Daw, includes deputies Frank Adams, Roger Kamoss, Dave Pugh, Terry Newman, John Scheck, Terry Thomason, and Jerry Wiedenhoff.

Those Sheriff's personnel will lead the post, which includes explorer LeRoy Green as Lt. Explorer, and explorer Jeff Wilson as Administrative Sergeant.

Squad leaders are Clark Handley and Jim Westberry, who assume the rank of sergeant. A third squad will be formed when more explorers join the post.

The post will now begin a six-month training program which will include lectures and field work on such topics as narcotics, burglary prevention, firearms familiarization, and stolen vehicle investigation.

The next meeting of the post will be Monday evening at the Lemon Grove Youth Center.

Season Sale Starts On Aztec Grid Tickets

Season tickets are now available for San Diego State home football games.

The Aztecs again will play seven (7) games at San Diego Stadium and according to Athletic Director Ken Karr, there will be no increase in price. Season tickets are priced at $36, $30 and $24 for six games with the annual Shrine Game extra.

New head coach Claude Gilbert will make his home debut on Saturday, September 29, against Kent State, winner of the Mid-America Conference and Tangerine Bowl participant. Subsequent home games include Houston, Florida State, New Mexico State (Shrine Game), Long Beach State, North Texas State and Iowa State. Karr added, "This has to be our most attractive home schedule, and we are looking for a corresponding increase in season ticket holders."

Season tickets are available at the Aztec Ticket Office on campus (286-6947) or by writing: Football Tickets, San Diego State U., San Diego, California 92115.

Is La Jolla Federal still on the soapbox?

You may recall that some months ago we placed an ad discussing an approach to the savings & loan business we've committed ourselves to do.

Well, here we are. Still on the soapbox.

Still hollering about the things we want our business to be built on.

You see, we pointed out that because most of us Federal Savings & Loan Associations are very much alike, it seemed a little silly to try and convince you otherwise.

So we stopped talking about highest interest rates. Lowest loan rates. Free goodies to folks who come in the door. And all the rest of that stuff.

Instead, we went another route.

Our ads started talking about some of the specific differences between a bank and a savings & loan. How a bank might even be better for your needs sometimes. How our real estate loans work.

Straight, basic information. Some people said we were crazy. Were they in for a surprise.

Success a mother could be proud of. It seems you liked what we had to say. To say the least.

Our newest branch in Spring Valley is off to a flying start. And plans just hit the drawing board for our fourth branch. In Fallbrook.

But the nicest part was hearing our new customers themselves say they agreed with us 100%.

What it all means.

Listen. The savings & loan business is essentially a service-type business.

And when you're choosing a savings & loan, we think you should expect more in the way of service than use of the photocopier or a safe deposit box.

You should expect an honest, no baloney attitude. You should be privy to all the knowledge of the business your savings & loan has stockpiled over the years. You should know how to best put your savings & loan to work for you.

And all of that is just what you get.

At our place.

The San Diego Blood Bank's Bloodmobile will visit Grossmont Hospital April 17 and May 1 under a program sponsored by the Grossmont Hospital Woman's Auxiliary.

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 years may donate blood from 2 to 6 p.m. either day. Since blood which has been donated must be used within 21 days, there is a need for a constant supply of blood from donors.

An earlier program netted 123 units of blood, but it is hoped that the next visits by the Bloodmobile will result in twice that much, according to Mrs. Mearl L. Baker, chairman of the program for the auxiliary.

Two More Finalists Named As Bike Rodeo Day Nears

More finalists have been designated to compete in the Bicycle Rodeo ride-off to be held April 28 at Golden Avenue school grounds.

The Accident Reduction Team of the California Highway Patrol is sponsoring the contest with a 10-speed bicycle ready to be given to the winner. The bike is being supplied by the L.G. Kiwanis club, according to Lou Poluzzi, club president.

Individual school contests are being held at local elementary schools. The winners of each will compete in the April 28 rodeo.

Contests at two schools last week produced these results: At Rancho Elementary: Sam Homant, the sixth grade son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Homant, 481 Broadview, Spring Valley, was the winner. Runners up were: Eric Franke, David P. Martin, Carl Butzin and Stephen Wright. Doris Kellhofer, PTA mother, was in charge.

At Avondale Elementary school Billy Agee, 6th grader, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Agee was the winner. Runners up: Brian Christianson, Robbie Fisher, Greg Agee and Jeff Schultz.

Mary Duran, PTA mother, was in charge. For CHP, Officer Bob Barrett was in charge.

Some of the reasoning behind CHP's interest in bicycle safety was voiced this week by the CHP's Commissioner Walter Pudinski.

Pudinski emphasized that the California Vehicle Code extends the same rights to bicyclists as it does drivers, "but even more important is the necessity to be alert for the mistakes of youngsters, particularly those 14 and under who often are unaware of their legal responsibilities. Defensive driving could eliminate many mishaps if drivers maintained more careful vigilance for the violations of this age group — such as a child darting unexpectedly from a driveway."

"The California Highway Patrol's bicycle enforcement program is expanding along with the increasing popularity of the bicycling sport. Last November the CHP began a program of 'citing' young riders 14 and under to educate them about the hazards of bicycling. The citations trigger letters to their parents advising the parent of the violation and seeking their assistance in alerting the youngster to the danger of improper riding.

"Along with increased bicycle sales comes increased use of roadways," commented Commissioner Pudinski. "The duty of the motorist is to remain alert, exercise common sense and be on the look-out for bicycle riders in extraordinary situations."

Since CHP's A.R.T. bicycle safety program was introduced in Lemon Grove, bicycle traffic accidents dropped from four early last fall when the program got underway to one during the period since.

Mr. & Mrs. Patrick A. Lejeune, Ready ReservAccount and taxes.

The following is a transcript of an interview held with Mr. Pat Lejeune, produce broker.

"Well, Ready ReservAccount has come in handy a lot of times, in a lot of ways, but this could be the first year I've had to use it to cover my income tax bill.

"In the past, I've used it on vacations when I ran short of money in my checking account, and wasn't in town to put more in. I've used it when there was too much month left at the end of the money."

"Now, I'm getting ready to go out of town again, and I could end up a little short on April 16. So it's good to know I've got Ready ReservAccount to back up my checkbook. It's something special. You can quote me?"

Thank you. We did. Ready ReservAccount. For when you have to write checks for more than you have in your checking account. Just one more of Security Pacific Bank's special services for special people. Like the Lejeunes. And you.

SECURITY PACIFIC BANK SOMETHING SPECIAL

Eight Run For Seats On Grossmont College Board

Eight names will be listed on the Grossmont College Board of Education ballot when voters in Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, and other areas of the district elect three members of the board Tuesday.

Included among the candidates are incumbents William Faulwetter and Paul Epler, as well as challengers Ken Joerdan, Sydney Wiener, Joseph Lyons, Alice Keyser, William Shifflet, and Edward Lyons.

Faulwetter, of 10986 Explorer pl., La Mesa, is seeking a third term on the board. He is a former Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce president, was president of the Faulwetter and Paul Epler, as Spring Valley Fire Protection District, and has been active with the Naval Reserve, the La Mesa Rotary Club, the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce, and the Foothills Bar Association.

Faulwetter, who describes himself as a needed commodity on the board, seeks to continue two trends of the district, which he listed as high standards of education within sound fiscal policy, and the role of the trustee as a trustee to the student, the teacher, the administrator, and the taxpayer.

He also said that he favors careful planning before the college district undertakes such projects as an auditorium or a second campus.

Epler, of 864 Sycamore lane, El Cajon, is also seeking a second term on the board. He has served the district as representative to such organizations as school board associations, has been active in PTA groups for many years, and has served as chairman of the board at Vista La Mesa Church.

Epler, in seeking re-election, said he wanted to emphasize the role of the community college, which is, he said, not that of a "glorified high school," but an institution for vocational education, personal development and enrichment, as well as academic instruction.

He said he was looking forward to the orderly development of the second college campus in Spring Valley.

Ken Joerdan, of 428 El Monte rd., El Cajon, is employed with the DAILY CALIFORNIAN. He has lived in this area for 15 years and received an associate in science degree from Grossmont College.

He has been a member of the Personnel Managers Association of San Diego and is presently working toward a degree in management at San Diego State.

Joerdan advocates frugality and wants plans for the second campus stopped, as well as those for the proposed auditorium. The money saved by stopping those projects would be used for expanding services of the college and for "bringing classes out into the community". He said the demand for the second campus could be met through other means.

Alice Keyser, of 10310 Aquila dr., Lakeside, is a teacher and second-year law student. She has taught vocational and English as a second language classes at Sweetwater High School and is presently attending Western State Law School.

The only woman on the ballot, Mrs. Keyser maintains that money available to the college could be better spent to meet the needs of the students. She said that the administration overspent $16,000 while students didn't have classes that they needed.

Communication between the staff and the students should also be improved, the candidate said.

Joseph Lyons, of 228 Blanchard rd., El Cajon, is a research associate at University Hospital. He is credentialed to teach at the junior college level. He received his Master's Degree from San Diego State.

He wants a more active role for the board of education he said, indicating that the board, in the past, has been too passive and has relied too heavily on the administration rather than taking the initiative in setting programs and policies.

He is against the proposed auditorium and wants to upgrade the academic programs at the college.

Sydney Wiener, of 1789 Hacienda pl., El Cajon, is a retired dentist and investor. He has lived in this area for four years and is a member of the Grossmont Community Concert Association.

He has been a leading proponent of combining forces with the City of El Cajon to construct an auditorium, which would be shared with the city. As an investor, he said, he would be valuable to the board because of his broad knowledge of finance.

William Shifflet, of 9395 Laurel st., La Mesa, has been a practicing attorney for 18 years and has lived in the Heartland area for 10 years. He has been active in PTA groups and has served in legal positions with the City of El Cajon and the Rainbow Water District.

He would be cautious, he said, in plans for the college's second campus, as well as those for a proposed auditorium. As a board member, he would look into increasing teacher salaries and the possibilities of reducing the college's budget.

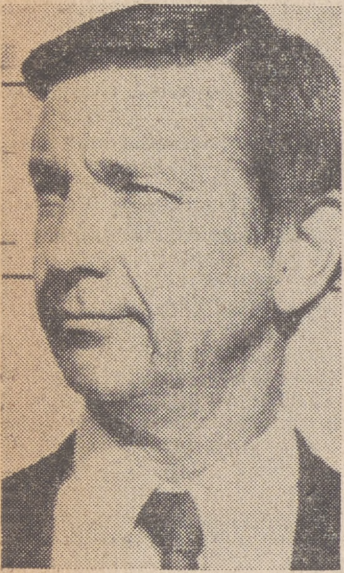

Photographs and statements were not available from the board's other candidate, Edward G. Lyons.

Home Stand Tests West's Best Teams

A sparkling spring home stand is underway for the Padres at San Diego Stadium.

It's a nine-game set with the best of the west as the Padres take early aim against their division foes.

And it includes early-season appearances of such notables as Hank Aaron, Leo Durocher and Johnny Bench.

Aaron, who entered this season with 673 lifetime major league homers, only 42 shy of Babe Ruth's record, together with his Atlanta teammates, will face the Padres tonight in the second game of their first pair at the Stadium.

It'll be Belmont Park Night Friday when the Durocher-managed Houston Astros face the Padres in the first of a four-game showdown.

Included in the series will be the season's first doubleheader on Sunday, which also is the premier of five Picture-Pack Autograph Days sponsored by Dean's Photo Co.

Then the National League champion Cincinnati Reds, a team the Padres defeated 10 of 18 games last season, arrive for single games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

There are excellent seats for all games available at the Padres Stadium ticket windows open daily at 9 a.m. and at Ticketron outlets throughout San Diego County.

Although there will be special interest on Aaron's attempt to draw closer to Ruth's home run mark, Padre fans will remember their own Nate Colbert's record-breaking heroics against the Braves last season.

It was Aug. 1 when Nate smashed five homers in a doubleheader against Atlanta, drove in 13 runs and hit for 22 bases to establish new records. For the entire 1972 season, Nate hit a robust .328 against the Braves.

For Belmont Park Night on Friday and the 7:30 p.m. game against the Astros, every fan entering the Stadium will receive a book of tickets good for four free rides at Belmont Park. There also will be a drawing for $1,000 worth of rides.

Saturday's game will start at 6 o'clock and the Sunday doubleheader will commence at 1 p.m.

The first Little Swinger date of the season will be Saturday night and Senior Citizens, who receive a $1 discount on all seats, will have their first special day on Sunday.

The first 15,000 persons attending Sunday's twinbill will receive a picture-pack containing pictures of six Padre players and coaches, who will be available for autographs prior to the games.

School Jazz Combo In Two Contests

Members of the Mt. Miguel High School jazz ensemble and jazz combo will perform in two competitions this weekend with many of Southern California's finest student musicians.

The Matadors travel to San Fernando for the Cal State Northridge Jazz Festival, Friday, then return for a 7:45 a.m. Saturday morning appearance at the Southwestern College Jazz Festival.

Miguel jazz combo musicians include Rick Suarez, drums; Jeff Visier, guitar; Mark Rasmussen, tenor saxophone; Ron Olivares, trumpet; David Helgeson, piano, and Mark Ratti, organ.

A weekend tour for instrumental music department students is scheduled for May 10-12. The group will play concerts at Thousand Oaks High, Agora High and Cal State Northridge, May 10, then perform in concert on Catalina Island, May 11-12.

A. Kammerer Services Held

Funeral services were held Monday at Greenwood Mortuary for Albert Russell Kammerer, 76, of 7070 Broadway, space 50, Lemon Grove, who died April 4 at Mt. Helix Hospital.

A native of Indiana, Kammerer lived here for 21 years and was employed for ten years as an inspector at Rohr Aircraft. He was a member of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

Surviving are his wife, Anna; four sons, William, of Michigan, Charles, of Imperial Beach, Raymond, of Spring Valley, and Max, of Santee; a daughter, Maxine Jewett, of Massachusetts; 16 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Monarchs Lose For First Time; Matadors Win Two

Last week was one of surprises on the high school baseball scene, as Mt. Miguel won two games and Monte Vista lost for the first time this season.

Mt. Miguel took on once beaten El Cajon Tuesday afternoon and put together a pair of good innings to escape with a 6-5 victory. Monte Vista, meanwhile, trampled Grossmont, 8-2.

On Friday, Mount Miguel pitcher Steve Long twirled a no-hitter at Santana to notch a 10-3 decision. Monte Vista, however, lost its first game of the season, 5-3, to El Capitan. That left Monte Vista still leading the standings with a 5-1 record, but by only a half game over Granite Hills at 4-1. The victories for Mount Miguel elevated the Matadors to a tie for fifth place with El Cajon. Both teams have 3-3 marks.

Tuesday's games marked the birth of the big bat for both Spring Valley schools.

Monte Vista, led by Louis LeLaurin's four hits in as many trips to the plate, blasted Grossmont pitching for 13 hits and eight runs. Rick Baker handled the mound duty for Monte Vista and limited Grossmont to four hits and two runs to get the decision.

Mt. Miguel, a team that hit an anemic .105 over the first four games of the season, woke up in the bottom of the first inning against El Cajon to score four times, as the first four batters collected hits, including Bill Cohen's triple and Phil Williamson's double.

El Cajon fought back to take a 5-4 lead in the third inning, but Mount Miguel battled back in the fourth frame to score twice. Steve Long retired 10 straight batters in four innings of work to notch the victory in relief.

Battling averages fell off a bit on Friday, as Monte Vista could muster only four hits and three runs against El Capitan. The Vaqueros, who never trailed in the game, jumped on starting pitcher Dave Munoz for three runs in the first inning and another in the second frame to coast to the victory.

Mt. Miguel's hitting was even worse, but Steve Long made up for it by tossing a no-hitter at Santana, making the Matadors' three runs on as many hits stand up, 3-0. Long whiffed a dozen batters enroute to his third victory of the season and second in three days.

Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel had games scheduled for Tuesday, and more action is on tap tomorrow night as Mt. Miguel hosts Grossmont and Monte Vista visits Santana.

Strong Fields Carded In Relays Saturday

Strong fields in the Open University relays are expected for the fourteenth annual San Diego Relays, starting at 10 A.M. Saturday in Balboa Stadium. Both the Bay Area Striders and Arizona U. have been under 41 seconds already for the 440 relay, and their 880 teams are in the 1 minute, 25 second class last year in both events with 40.8 and 1:25.7, respectively.

In the mile relay, USIU, Arizona and the San Diego Track Club, hoping to better their 3-4-5 finishes of last year, find the Bay Area Striders the main obstacle.

The 2 mile relay should be more competitive, with N. Arizona a slight early favorite over the San Diego Track Club, Long Beach State and Cal State Northridge, among others.

Hal Connolly will be back again to defend his hammer title.

Exemption Deadline

Deadline is Monday for filing Homeowners' and Veteran's property tax exemptions. Claims may be filed in person at the office of the County Assessor's office until 5 p.m. Monday. Mailed claims will qualify if not dated later than midnight April 16, according to E. C. Williams, County Assessor.

A total of seven names will be listed on the ballot voters of the Lemon Grove School District go to the polls to elect three members of the district's board of trustees. Included will be incumbents Warren Buckner and Leonard Klee, as well as challengers Bill Talbot, John Linn, Jerry Legerton, Don McCray, and Walter Coles. Not seeking re-election is Bert Cosby.

Buckner, who has been a member of the board for 16 years, resides at 1744 Englewood dr., with his family. He has served as clerk, vice president, and president of the school board and has been active in education and community projects for many years. He cited local school involvement and control and excellent teaching and administrative staff as accomplishments of the district of which he is particularly happy with. Problems the district will face in coming years, he said, will center mainly around a declining enrollment, which will result in less state aid. He hopes to be re-elected to aid in assigning of orderly priorities for the district.

Leonard Klee, who is president of the board this year, resides with his family at 8043 Darryl st. He is running for re-election for the first time after four years on the board because "I want to help carry forth the programs and economics of a respected district." Klee has been active in many groups, including PTA, Camp Fire Girls, church groups, and other youth organizations. Goals he holds for the district include more community involvement and better financial support.

William H. Talbot, of 6541 Lemarand ave., San Diego, who works at San Diego Blue Print Company and is a captain in the San Diego Police Reserve Association, is president of the Vista La Mesa

PTA. He cites a need for discipline in the schools and a need for better communication between the school board and the community as reasons for seeking a spot on the board.

John Linn, of 3221 Lemon lane, is the father of four children who attend local schools. He works for the San Diego Unified School District and has been active in the Golden Avenue PTA and serves on that school's citizen advisory committee as well as the district community advisory committee. He would like to see the school board do a better job of communicating with the community and resist higher taxes without compromising the quality of education.

Jerry Legerton, local optometrist and member of the Lemon Grove Lions Club, lives at 1764 Skyline dr. He has been active in PTA, is a member of the district community advisory committee and has held positions with several local service organizations. He would like to improve the ratio of educators to students in the district and would strive for more citizen involvement.

Don McCray, of 1862 Costa da ct., is 1973 parade chairman for the Old Time Days Association and has a grandchild attending in the local district.

His goals include more involvement between the board and the district's PTA's, careful considerations in budget as a result of pending cuts in money available to the district, and an improvement in financing education.

Walter Coles, of 2529 Washington st., who is employed with the Salvation Army's Bureau of Social Services, is a member of the Mount Vernon PTA and the school's citizen advisory group.

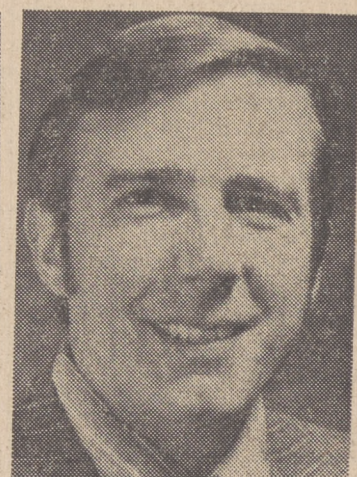

He cited a need for getting back to basic education as well as a responsive board sensitive to providing sound education with responsible fiscal management.

TOP WRITERS — Bob Cowan and Pauline Repard, students in June Mott's journalism classes at Mount Miguel High School, were winners in the recent "On The Spot" writing contest at Kearny High School. The students first interviewed two former drug addicts for 30 minutes and then wrote stories based on the interview. Pauline took second place in the news writing category, while Cowan finished first in the editorial category. Students from 51 county schools participated in the contest, with the top ten in each category becoming eligible to compete in the state write-offs at Hawthorne April 28. (Steve Wolfe photo)
